Codes Shares

10. Codes Shares

Ethiopian Airlines (ET) partners with other airlines through agreements known as Code Shares. This allows us to offer more destinations and flight options, even though the flight may be operated by another carrier.

What Does This Mean for You?

- If your ticket or reservation shows "ET" as the airline code, the flight may still be operated by a different airline.
- These are known as Code Share flights.
- In such cases, Ethiopian's Conditions of Carriage still apply, and we will inform you of the actual operating carrier at the time you make your reservation.

Responsibilities and Rules

- For all Codeshare flights opera

- However, the operating airline may have different rules, including but not limited to:

  - Check-in time limits
  - Travel policies for unaccompanied minors
  - Rules for carrying pets or animals
  - Conditions for refusing transport
  - Availability of medical oxygen services
  - Handling of delays or irregular operations
  - Compensation for denied boarding
  - Baggage policies, including allowance and liability

These partner-specific rules are part of Ethiopian's Conditions of Carriage by reference and apply when relevant.

For Flights to/from the United States U.S

- If a Code Share partner operates a flight to or from the U.S. with Ethiopian's "ET" code, the operating carrier's contingency plan will apply in the event of lengthy tarmac delays.

Important Notes for Passengers

- Ethiopian will let you know at the time of inquiry or booking if your flight is operated by a Code Share partner.

- For detailed policies and regulations of a Code Share partner, please visit the partner's website or consult your travel agent.

Customer Service Plan

11. Customer Service Plan

Ethiopian Airlines is committed to ensuring a safe, comfortable, and respectful travel experience for all passengers, especially during flight delays. The following outlines our Customer Service Plan and Contingency Plan for Lengthy Tarmac Delays, in compliance with the U.S. Department of Transportation (DOT) regulations (14 CFR Part 259).

1. Deplaning During Tarmac Delays

Passengers may deplane and make alternative travel arrangements—in line with airline ticketing policies—if it is determined to be safe and secure, and the following conditions are met:

- The aircraft has moved into position for deplaning
- All operational requirements for deplaning are completed
- The Pilot-in-Command has aut deplaning

Note: Passengers who deplane may boarding pass and re-board if permissible.

- Baggage Information:

❖ In most cases, checked baggage will remain on board to the flight's final destination.

❖ If the flight is cancelled after returning to the gate, passengers will retrieve their luggage at the airport's baggage claim facility.

2. Support During Delays

Depending on the nature of the delay, Ethiopian will provide:

- Adequate food and beverages, including potable water
- Operable lavatories onboard
- Medical attention, if required

We strive to maintain a seamless experience both onboard and on the ground, but please note that Ethiopian is not liable for service deficiencies caused by factors beyond its control (e.g. weather, air traffic, government restrictions, etc.).

Ethiopian Airlines Tarmac Delays Contingency Plan (U.S. Flights Only)

This plan applies to Ethiopian Airlines flights departing from or arriving at U.S. airports. Ethiopian will not permit an aircraft to remain on the tarmac for more than four (4) hours without allowing passengers to deplane, unless:

- The Pilot-in-Command determ
safety or security reason to remain o

Air Traffic Control (ATC) advises that

- Provide adequate food and water within 2 hours of the delay (from gate departure or landing)
- Maintain operable lavatory facilities
- Provide adequate medical attention if necessary
- Update passengers with the status of the delay every 30 minutes, including available information on the reason for the delay
- Notify passengers if an opportunity to deplane at a gate or other location becomes available

Resource Coordination

Ethiopian has established protocols to ensure adequate staffing and resources to implement this plan, including coordination with:

- Airport authorities and terminal facility operators
- Customs and Border Protection (CBP)
- Transportation Security Administration (TSA)
- Other service providers, including at diversion airports
